Lean Six Sigma Green Belt Portfolio Manager at Bagram Air Base, Afghanistan

My job is a Lean Six Sigma Master Black Belt at Bagram Air Base, Afghanistan. I am the LSS Green Belt Portfolio Manager responsible for training and mentoring Army Soldiers as Green Belts. While this is not the first time the Army has done Green Belt training it the first time this time this training has been done in an FOB (Forward Operating Base) in a War Zone. I also work on my own enterprise wide projects as a LSS MBB. The projects we run cover a wide array of process disciplines , many of which I cannot speak about. The bottom line is we are here to help the war fighter.
