

2010 MIS

Health Physicist, Columbia, SC

As part of my duties as a health physicist I look at a lot of data and try to make sense of it. Starting with the very first course in the MAS program (formerly the MIS Program) I found myself learning something in class and then applying it right away at work. Overall I have found my experience in the MAS program to be rather enjoyable and rewarding, both personally and professionally. I can wholeheartedly recommend the program to anyone who wants to improve their applied data analysis skills.
